

ALASKA NATIVE
TRIBAL HEALTH
CONSORTIUM

2016 Dental Health Aide Therapist Recruitment Announcement

Do you want to be part of an exciting oral health care team?

We are a tribally affiliated two year program based in Alaska. We are seeking students who are culturally sensitive, and motivated to make a difference in small Alaskan Native communities. We provide a challenging curriculum tailored to teach students to provide oral health and preventive services in Alaska. Students accepted to our program are required to obtain Tribal Health Organization sponsorship. Tribal sponsorship guarantees employment upon successful completion of the 2 year program. Thanks to THO Sponsorship and additional funding from ANTHC, Rasmuson Foundation, and the W.K. Kellogg Foundation the benefits of being a student include: no tuition costs, monthly living stipends and assistance with transportation costs to/from home community. ANTHC will provide assistance in finding Tribal Health Organization Sponsorship.

We are seeking new applicants for the 2016-2018 DHAT Educational Program.

Minimum Requirements:

- High school Diploma or GED
- DHSS Background and criminal background check clearance
- Drug free (mandatory drug testing is part of our admissions process)
- Tribal Health Organization Sponsorship

How do I apply? Applications are accepted on-line through the ANTHC job openings website <http://anthc.org/anthc-job-openings/> position is listed as: Dental Health Aide Therapist (DHAT) Student (20151097)

For more information contact DHAT Educational Program Manager Rachel Schierholt at 907-729-5600 or email: rschierholt@anthc.org